State's Black Doctors Plan Sixth Convention

The predominantly Black organization of California medics, the Golden State Medical Association (GSMA), will hold its sixth annual convention, June 22-24, at the Sheraton-Universal Hotel in Hollywood.

Convention chairman Arthur H. Coleman, M.D., of San Francisco states that the convention's theme is The Changing Health Delivery Systems in the Black Community. There are close to 800 Black physicians in California. GSMA is a composite of California's medical societies affiliated with the National Medical Association (NMA).

Among the many important speakers and panelists who will participate in the three-day meeting are Dr. J. M. Stubblebine, director of the Department of Health for the State of California; Senator Wallace Bennett of Utah (author of the Bennett Amendment-PSRO); W. McFate Smith, M.D., health care director for Region IX-HFW; William Grier, M.D., author of Black Rage, The Jesus Bag and director of Pacific Psychotherapy Associates in San Francisco; Mrs. Johnnie Tillmon, director of the National Welfare Rights Organization, and Liston Witherall, director of the Department of Health Services for Los Angeles County. Senator Edward Brooke (R, Massachusetts) has been invited to deliver the keynote address.

The convention delegates, who will come from various cities throughout California, are expected to raise questions of state and federal health planning in the delivery of health care to the Black community and to enter into definitive dialogue as to how these changes must be administered.

The convention will identify and give definition to vital health issues. It will highlight the need for all-whether or not they are professionally involved in the health care system—not only to learn more but to participate in the dialogue about health care problems.

GSMA hopes that by sharing its knowledge with others, inside and outside the health field—and gaining input as well—that it is making a vast contribution to a decision-making process that must result in better and effective solutions to the problems.

Discussed also at the convention will be health careers, Black survival, community coalitions for health care and mental health problems in the Black community. In other words, the uniqueness of GSMA's conventions is that they are designed to deal with the on-going day-to-day problems that the Black physician faces in his or her relationship with the health consumer. No scientific papers are presented.

Host chapter for the convention will be the Charles R. Drew Medical Society of Los Angeles, Ross Miller, M.D., president. GSMA's women's auxiliary will be meeting at the same time.

California's Black dentists and pharmacists will hold several joint meetings with GSMA at this weekend health confab.

Named To Assist CPB President

Washington, D.C. — W. Clinton Powell, a native of Indiana and a former Foreign Service Officer, has been appointed Special Assistant to Henry Loomis, President of the Corporation for Public Broadcasting.

Powell will have designated responsibilities in overall CPB operations and will be particularly concerned with Minority Affairs related to public broadcasting.

His appointment is another in a series of steps taken by Loomis, since becoming president of the corporation, to make the CPB more relevant.

CPB is an independent, non-profit organization, based here.

It was established under the terms of the Public Broadcasting Act of 1967, to provide funds, grants and services to a network of non-commercial, public broadcasting stations. There are 234 public television and 560 public radio stations throughout the United States.

A journalism major, Powell did undergraduate work at Butler University of Indianapolis and at the University of Chicago.

He studied at the Johns Hopkins University School of Advanced International Studies and is the first Black civilian to have completed the senior course of the US Naval War College.

Commended for his War College thesis, The Role of Propaganda in the Achievement of National Goals, he was invited to submit it to the Annapolis

Naval Academy for publication.

Prior to entering the Foreign Service in 1955, Powell published a weekly newspaper in Indianapolis and produced radio programs for stations WISH and WIRE.

His first foreign assignment was to Liberia as director of information and cultural activities at the American Embassy.

Subsequent assignments included Sierra Leone, Dohomey, Cameroon, Tanzania, France, Morocco and Niger.

He has visited 42 other countries in Africa and Europe.

Powell became a direct of public affairs in the Department of State in 1968. In 1970 he was detailed to the United States Mission at the United Nations as advisor to the United States Delegation to the General Assembly and in 1971 was appointed counselor of embassy and deputy chief of mission in Niger.

He returned here in January of this year, retired from the Foreign Service and began his duties with CPB.

Plight Of Orphans In Vietnam Is Film Theme

The plight of thousands of racially mixed orphans—legacy of the 12 years of American involvement in Vietnam—will be examined in a special NBC Reports program titled "The Sins of the Fathers," Tuesday, June 19 on the NBC Television Network.

Producer Robert "Shad" Northshield, the on-camera reporter for The Sins of the Fathers, and his film crew spent more than eight weeks in South Vietnam filming and gathering material for the documentary.

A heritage left as a constant reminder to the natives who live in war-torn Vietnam are the half-American children left behind by United States servicemen.

All of the children are of mixed racial appearance and therefore considered by most Vietnamese to be undesirable, unwelcome and a curse on their land. "This program is about racism and belonging and these kids are orphans in the worst sense of the word," said Northshield.

"The problems they face are probably 97th on the top priority list of the Vietnamese government — but that certainly is not the case if you happen to be one of those orphans. For them — to know where they don't belong is difficult — to know where they do, is essential."

To investigate and film the varied conditions under which many of these children live, the Northshield unit traveled to orphanages in Saigon, Da Nang, Long Bien and Quang Tri, as well as to some hamlets in the countryside.

"The orphanage system there is horrible," said director Fred Flamenhaft, who shot several thousand feet of color film for the story. "For example, one had 1240 kids to take care of and only 12 nuns to do the job. The kids were so starved for affection, they just behaved like animals. When we set up to film in the orphanage playyard and they surrounded us in small gangs, grabbing and hanging on to the crew just trying to belong to someone. They tried to take our shoelaces, our glasses, our equipment — anything to be noticed or to have someone touch them personally."

'Soul Children' Have Soul

A critic dropped backstage at Boston's Sugar Shack to interview The Soul Children. He watched with increasing awe as they went through a spirited rehearsal.

"Say," he asked, "is your performance anything like your rehearsal?"

Assured that it was, the critic expressed skepticism. In fact, he came right out and said he didn't believe it and stayed for the show to see for himself.

He later wrote a glowing review of the show and said, "if I hadn't seen it, I wouldn't believe it."

The Soul Children, as is evident in this vignette, are seasoned professionals who recently were brought together by Isaac Hayes and David Porter, Stax Records' renowned songwriters, recording artists and producers.

They both believed that there was a pressing need for a group that could convey the rapidly expanding Memphis Sound. They envisioned the types of individual singers that would ideally make up the group and set about finding them.

The four "children"—ages 21 to 30—were discovered in 1968 while they were working within the Stax Organization.

Norman West, 30-year-old native of Monroe, Louisiana, the oldest and spokesman for the group, says:

"It was a dynamite idea. We function exactly as individuals and as a group. You never know who the leader is and you never know what is going to happen when we are on stage. That's because we never quite know ourselves. We do our thing individually and we do it together."

Nearly 2 Million Blacks Were Not Counted In 1970

Washington (NBNS)—The Census Bureau has estimated it missed about 5.3 million Americans, of whom 1.87 million are Black—or 7.7 percent of the Black population—in the 1970 census.

The 5.3 million figure is based on what the Bureau called "the best estimate" within a margin of error which extends from 4.8 million to 5.8 million persons.

Bureau statisticians noted that the estimated error, which is about 2.5 percent of the previously reported total of 203.2 million people counted in the 1970 census, was less than those errors reported in 1950 and 1960, when 2.7 percent and 3.3 percent respectively of the population were not counted.

"The 1970 census was probably the best ever taken," said Robert Hagan, the Bureau's acting director, "but like its predecessors it was imperfect."

Although the Bureau conceded that it is extremely important to maintain accurate figures on the population count, especially in view of the allocation of revenue sharing funds and the appointment of election districts which are based on population figures, it said the new figures will not be used to update the previously reported figure.

Instead, the Bureau said, the study was done to determine the effectiveness of techniques used in the 1970 census in order to revise them before the next census in 1980.

According to Joseph Waksberg, assistant director for statistics and methodology, and Margaret A. Giglitto, who compiled the study, about 7.7 percent of the Black population was missed, compared to 1.9 percent of the white population, or 3.45 million persons.

In addition, their figures show that Blacks—and especially children under ten years of age—were quite often likely to be missed in the 1970 census. However, the estimated undercount of Black males aged 15-35 dropped from 15 percent in 1960 to 8 percent in 1970, while the estimated undercount for Black children under ten years old rose from 5.3 percent to 8.6 percent for those same years.

"All through the 1960s researchers were reporting increasing resistance on the part of the population to being interviewed. Studies showed more alienation and distrust of the government, and there appeared to be more organized attempts to protest the census," the writers maintained.

They cited such reasons as families having draft age sons, feelings of privacy and welfare recipients having male residents as persons not fully responding to census questions. It also reported that some census takers were reluctant to work, especially at night, in some urban areas.

The study also revealed that:

* Black males, aged 25 to 34 years, were most likely to be missed, on an average of 18.5 percent.

* The lowest chance of being missed were white males aged 55 to 64, and white females, aged 35 to 44, or an average of about one-half of 1 percent.

* An estimated undercount of Spanish-surnamed persons and other minority groups was not available, the writers said, because birth, death and net immigration records "do not exist with the accuracy required for this analysis."

"God created your spirits with wings to fly in the spacious firmament of Love and Freedom. How pitiful to lop off your wings with your own hands and suffer your spirit to crawl like vermin upon the earth." — Spiritual Sayings of Gibran —

I knew since Sunday morning what I was going to write about. And that is rare. Usually I sit and sit until "I am called" before it comes to me.

Sunday morning while listening to Rev. Hooper's program on the radio, something his guest speaker said may interest many of my followers. This deals with our soul. He said a man incarnates over and over again. Sometimes soon after he passes from this life, and again it may be as much as a thousand years later depending upon how his life ended.

You remember Rev. Hooper? He is the one who wrote "Soul Food" for this paper for a short while. And like all good things that happened to this paper, his column passed through our lives. I shall forever miss it.

Anyway, his guest was discussing life, death and rebirth (not necessarily called that), when he explained that the soul of man will seek and find another homo sapien body to reincarnate in. But the soul has a cycle to follow. Your life is predestined. Whether it be just a simple life and natural death, or an accidental death. That destiny was predetermined long before the soul entered the body.

No one should tamper with his destiny. When a person takes his own life he has unbalanced the scale of life. You have certainly blown the whistle and disrupted the cycle. The soul cannot leave the body and find another one because his time is not up for this one.

So the soul just has to wallow around within this battered old body until such time as he can be released - by time - to find another body to inhabit. That is Hell! In the Bible, the Devil talks

Hello everyone! Most people know the kind of money an ambitious electrician can make. The question many young people want answered is: how does one get to be an electrician? The National Joint Apprenticeship and Training Committee for the Electrical Industry, set up by labor and management, recommends a four-year apprenticeship program as the best way to learn all aspects of the electrical trade. An apprenticeship program usually requires 8,000 hours (four years) of on-the-job training plus a minimum of 144 hours of related classroom instruction each year.

Many electricians go into business for themselves at some point in their careers. As their activities expand, they may employ other workers and become contractors. These men do extremely well financially, many earning upwards of $20,000 annually. TODAY'S ARMY can guarantee the training you need in the electrical field. At this moment, there are hundreds of men in the U.S. Army Signal Center and School in Fort Monmouth, New Jersey picking up that kind of "special training" in a variety of related areas. One of these is the instruction currently being offered those aspiring to positions as Army Combat Area Surveillance Radar Repairmen. These young men receive 28 weeks of intensive instruction at the Signal School. They get a thorough grounding in electrical fundamentals and procedures and work with basic audio amplifiers, microwave transmitters and modulators as well as advance conductors and circuitry. It is valuable instruction for those interested in careers as electricians. Your travel area to work after completion of school is the one selected by you prior to entry on active duty which may include installations within the Continental US or Europe. Once there, enlistees begin immediately to add to their knowledge with on-the-job applications of their classroom instruction.

Three enlistees from the Monterey Peninsula in April were: Sandra L. Skinner; Robert L. Medlock and Ishwar Datt. Sandra enlisted in TODAY'S ARMY for the Still Photography Course, a 13 week course and she will be assigned to Fort Sam Houston, Texas, after completion of her course. Robert L. Medlock enlisted in the Food Services field, after completion of his school, he chose his training at Fort Ord with a minimum guarantee of twelve months to remain there. Ishwar Datt enlisted for the Regular Army Enlistment Option and he chose to serve for a period of two years.

Land Planning Is Topic Of Discussion

The League of Women Voters of the Monterey Peninsula is proud to present the community with the opportunity to hear two distinguished guests at their luncheon meeting, which will begin at 12 noon, May 17 at Pacific Grove Community Center, 4th & Junipero Streets.

Dr. Stanley A. Cain, visiting Professor of Environmental Studies, UC Santa Cruz, will discuss "Good Land Use: Why It Is Crucial". Dr. Cain's assignment at Santa Cruz involves planning for a new college there which will largely revolve around problems of ecology and land use. He has long served as head of the Department of Conservation of the University of Michigan and has been an Assistant Secretary of the Interior, an advisor to various State Federal and International agencies involved in conservation and environmental planning, and has also published extensively.

Mr. Donald D. Gralnek, consultant to the California State Assembly Select Committee on Open Space

Lands, will tell "What's Happening in California Land Use Planning". He is a 1967 graduate of Stanford University, was awarded a law degree from UC Berkeley, passed the California bar in 1970 and returned to earn a Master's Degree in City Planning.

All interested persons are welcome to attend the meeting. For luncheon reservations, please call Mrs. Anne Stoops, 373-5791.

Open House Scheduled

The public is cordially invited to attend an open house, of the Peninsula Parent Nursery School, on May 19 from 10 a.m. to noon the director Mrs. Joseph Russell and helping mothers will explain the operation of this co-operative nursery school.

The school is located in the Del Monte School at 222 Casa Verde Way in Monterey.

This inter-racial non-sectarian school has been in operation for the past ten years. In February of this year the school has added a new afternoon session in addition to the two morning sessions.

For more information on new fall enrollment and open house, call the membership chairman Mrs. Roger Woodbury at 372-0396.

Party To Honor Moretti

The Democratic Women's Club of Monterey County will sponsor a Wine & Cheese party on Tuesday, May 22, from 5:30 to 7:30 to honor assembly speaker Robert Moretti. It will be held at Sunset Center (Room 20) in Carmel. All interested persons are cordially invited and the donation is only $2 per person.

soon bear the name of Douglas McNeil, former director of athletics who died in his classroom last month.

Monterey Peninsula Unified School District trustees upheld the recommendation of students at the Marina continuation school and decided the school would be named Marina La Via School. The small high school is temporarily located at Crunpton Elementary School, and has been in existence or nearly one semester.

Following the request of Monterey High's student council, the board agreed to name that school's stadium after Coach McNeil, who began in the physical education department in 1946 and developed a strong track and field program there. McNeil collapsed in his classroom on April 12 and was pronounced dead at a hospital shortly afterward.

Student President Paul Dubrasich said a plaque will be installed in the stadium, bearing the coach's name.

In other action at the meeting, trustees were told that the district's financial picture has improved again, following several weeks of doubt about federal impact aid funding. After informing the district in February that it would receive over $3 million in impact aid, the federal government announced in April that such funds would be reduced.

meaning a loss of $1 million for Monterey schools.

Now, however, President Nixon has signed a bill to give financial help to districts responsible for educating children of military families and the district expects to receive funding at the $3 million level.

MPC Offers European Excursion

A co-operative non-profit travel program entitled "Europe - the Independent Way" is being sponsored this summer by five Northern California colleges including Monterey Peninsula College.

The 41-day tour, beginning June 21, is open to anyone and can be taken on a credit/no credit basis as independent study arranged by San Mateo College in cooperation with MPC.

The $499 cost includes round-trip jet transportation from Oakland, hotel accommodations in London, Paris, Rome, Munich and Amsterdam and the services of college center directors in Europe.

The closing date for reservations is April 30. For additional information, contact MPC's Community Services at 375-9821, ext. 335.

Mrs. York Honored

Mrs. Phyllis J. York of Seaside has received one of the six awards given out by Volunteers in Action in recognition and appreciation of the gifts of time and talent she has given to volunteer service. Mrs. York organized and directs an after-school program for the school age children of welfare recipients. The program provides gainful recreation and training for these children.

The awards were given out in the home of Mrs. Roger Poyner at a recognition tea she gave for Volunteers in Action on May 10.

Other recipients were:
Mr. Edward M. Swaine of

Gina Warner
Cynthia Watkins
Shon Williams
Edward Wilson
Cassandra Woods
Denise Worley
Ricky Yokogawa

Pacific Grove for organizing over 150 volunteers in two separate programs to provide the therapy of patterning to two brain-damaged Peninsulans.

Mr. Donald reifsteck of Monterey for his chairmanship of Project Buddy, a program which provides socially deprived children with a consistent, reliable adult relationship.

Mrs. Milton D. Roth, Jr. of Monterey for her over 500 hours given to the Sports Car Racing Association of the Monterey Peninsula (SCRAMP).

Mrs. James B. Greene, Jr. of Pacific Grove for her committee's work in writing VIA's new brochure.

Mrs. Allen F. Wilmot of Pacific Grove for the work she did in the lay-out and brochure.

District Supervisor Roger Poyner made the presentations at the event which was chaired by Mrs. D. M.

M-2 Program To Be Explained

At a meeting set for 7:30 p.m. Thursday, May 17, at the First Presbyterian Church, Alta Mesa and Eldorado, Monterey, men who are visiting Soledad Correctional Institution as M-2 sponsors will discuss the M-2 program with people who would like to hear more about this unique and effective crime prevention project.

Special guests at the meeting will be the Rev. Byron E. Eshelman, author of "Death Row Chaplain," and Lawrence E. Wilson, who has been called "the best warden San Quentin ever had."

M-2 Sponsors, according to regional representative Lloyd White of Santa Cruz, is a program involving personal visits to prison inmates on a "man-to-man" basis with the object of inspiring the inmates to change the direction of their lives so that when they leave prison they will make a better adjustment to the world outside.

"Our prisons are custodial institutions, not rehabilitative ones," White said in a recent talk. "If a man who feels himself friendless and abandoned by society learns that someone cares enough to come and visit him once a month, this can be the starting point for a change in the man's attitude toward himself and toward society."

Discovering from the association with his sponsor other life-styles and models than those he has encountered in his life thus far can also provide a prisoner with motivation for change, according to White. The experience of M-2 Sponsors in the past few years had demonstrated that the crime cycle in individual lives can be broken.

M-2 Sponsors currently has a contract with Soledad for 200 sponsors, and white has the task of recruiting them. The May 17 meeting, which is open to the public, is planned as a way of letting more people know about the program.

Persons interested in M-2 Sponsors who cannot attend the meeting in Monterey on May 17 may get further information by writing Lloyd White, P.O. Box 1272, Santa Cruz 95060.

about fire and brimstone as Hell. Well, years and years, or centuries ago when man discovered fire (stone age man), that was considered and thought to be the most powerful and painful of all discoveries. So the worst that could happen to anyone would be the burning by fire. And if the soul is locked up within the body, unable to be released, it was considered as being in Hell.

We know that there is not a place under the ground where we can be thrown after death to burn and burn forever and ever. It is the soul of man that is tortured, not the vehicle that carries the soul around.

I know that if I were a soul and the vehicle I was in destroyed itself before its time, and I had to suffer and suffer for a number of years, I just may be a bit bitter by the time I entered my next vehicle. I would at least be a bit more choosy.

Then I read the report from the State Department of Health on a book by Walter Gove entitled "Sex, Marital Status and Suicide" talking about the "liberated" woman. It seems that California leads the nation in suicides. But more striking was the report that the city of San Francisco leads the nation, thereby boosting California's statistics. California's suicide rate increased from 15.9 per 100,000 in 1960 (2,502) to 18.8 in 1970 (3,744). The rest of the country hovered between 10.6 and 11.1 per 100,000 during the 10-year period.

Walter Gove attributes the suicide rate increase in women (2.6 women to each man in 1969 throughout the nation, while in California it was a whopping 1.7 to each man) due to the fact that women are more liberated in California. "Their drive for success and recognition has increased pressures and opened more possibilities for failure. In precisely those areas where liberated women are making most progress, the male-female suicide ratio moves toward 'equality'."

What groups have seen the highest increase in the increasing number of black women between 20 and 24. A rate of 30.2 in 1970 compared to white female rate of 13.6. California's black suicide rate drops after 20-24 years of age. It is believed that those blacks who survive past their more dangerous years between 20 and 35 have made some accommodation with life - a compromise that has usually had to include a scaling down of their aspirations.

For white women, the peak is in the 55-64 age group, and the rate declines after 65.

Enough about the suicides. Let us talk about the living. The most living of our species is Andy Barragan. He is doing fine. Back to his old tricks: walking around without leaving a forwarding address. Mrs. B. looked for him for two hours last Saturday and I looked for over an hour. He returned smiling like a chestnut. Do you know what a chestnut is? It comes from the word "chesty" meaning vain and conceited. He will avow to the end that he had no cause to become excited because he was gone so long. We could not find him because when we passed the area he was in he was inside yakking. Places like Seaside, Rexall, talking with Dick Penrose; or House of Wheels, talking with Ed Smith; or all the way up to Wolff's Delicatessen, keeping Mr. and Mrs. Wolff from their afternoon rush. Also at Julie's refusing rides.

You should have seen him slithering back home as if he had just walked into the back yard and returned. All of you who have been praying for miracles may change it to prayers of thanks. Just keep on keeping on.

Needs Dance Instructor

The Seaside Parks & Recreation Department is now hiring for a Modern Dance Instructor.

background studies in ballet. Applications may be obtained at the Seaside Youth Center by 5 p.m. on May 24.

For further information please contact Marty Feliciano, Program Specialist, Seaside Youth Center, 1185 Wheeler St. 394-8531, ext. 58.

Your Mayor Reports

Joe Dolan

ARMED FORCES DAY Saturday, 19 May 73

On Saturday, May 19, 1973, Fort Ord will conduct a day-long OPEN HOUSE in conjunction with the national observance of Armed Forces Day. This is the first Open House of such magnitude that Fort Ord has conducted since 1969 and the Post is making an all out effort to provide its civilian neighbors with both a meaningful, as well as entertaining, day.

Activities will start at 9 a.m. at Fort Ord's Fritzche Army Airfield and will conclude there with a colorful, formal military parade and review at 3 p.m.

In between, there are a wide variety of activities scheduled.

Military bus tours will be conducted throughout the day, so that the public may observe training in progress and see many of the important facilities used by the military and their families.

The day's program also is designed with the children in mind. Jeep rides, a junior parachute jump tower and fun games are some of the interesting events for them. Of interest to all will be a skydiving exhibition. There will be snacks and refreshments available for everyone.

Recently the entire Monterey County area - at least the overwhelming majority of its citizens! - was concerned that Fort Ord might be closed. On Saturday, May 19, '73, I urged everyone to visit our good military neighbors at Fort Ord and also express your appreciation to our fine neighbors in uniform. We are fortunate to have them as neighbors!

Letters to the Editor

Editor:

We read the astonishing news. We wonder! What scrambled thinking goes on? We assumed that those on such an important body as the Monterey County Planning Commission would be interested in beauty, peace, wholesome recreation, preserving what is pleasing in Mother Nature, the good of a community.

If what we read in a Peninsula paper is accurate, this Commission has approved at its last meeting the use of the land - the sand dunes - by the "rough-and-ready" throughout the state. The ocean front of Marina is okay, according to the Commission, for ear-splitting noise, destructive maneuvering, speeding in every direction and jarring ones inside madly by riding in dune buggies of various shapes! All the Commission seemed to care about was that the privilege should cost a fee of $3, presumably for a year's license to raise hell. Is that what it calls "planning"? Heaven forbid!

We understand there have been accidents already from such dare-devil, destructive activity going on for sometime. Sand dunes are being leveled down, vegetation destroyed, animal life either killed or chased away. Those living for some distance, in lovely homes west of Highway 1, are disturbed and their property, animal life either killed or chased away. Those living for some distance, in lovely homes west of Highway 1, are disturbed and their property may prove difficult to sell if the situation worsens. Filth is thrown about by the dare-devil drivers - many from far away who can care less what happens to Marina and its ocean front loveliness.

I want to register my protest on this spitting in the face of conservation, disregarding ecology, paying no attention to the overwhelming majority of Marina residents who want an attractive, quiet, wholesome place to live not a "boiler factory," or a place where the reckless can come around to exercise out their many frustrations with noise and destructiveness.

What other problems will such "permissible" antics cost Marina and neighboring communities? The Commission should rescind its erroneous approval. If people want to knock themselves out - shaking up brain and body - with such stunts, no community should be around for tens of miles. Surely there must be some "no-man's land" for that purpose. Why in a village of 13,000 people? I can foresee a time when the ocean area of Marina will be put to wise use - lovely parks, fishing, swimming and boating. Where wholesome and refreshing use will be made of its magnificence. Let us save it for that!

Sincerely yours,
George Herman
Marina

Editor:

Have you gotten the feeling lately, that you're being led around by a ring in your nose? That you're stupid, and so, incapable of making your own decisions? Assembly Speaker, Bob Moretti, talking about death penalty legislation, SB 450, coming up for hearing in Assembly Criminal Justice Committee, firmly believes that! He claims legislators are not mirrors of public opinion, that leadership is MORE important than representation! Legislators are our representatives, NOT our judges! In spite of the "yes" votes on reinstatement of the death penalty of 68.1 percent in Mr. Moretti's district and 67.5 percent statewide, he evidently feels the people made a mistake and its up to the legislators to correct it! REPRESENTATION??

Three of the members of the Assembly Criminal Justice Committee, Assemblymen Crown, Waxman and Sieroty, also announced their opposition to the death penalty. They too, in spite of the large majority of "yes" votes in their districts, plan to block passage of death penalty legislation SB 450! Should they succeed, we do and will have, another time consuming, costly alternative - once again getting signatures on an initiative petition, to put SB 450 on the ballot!

As San Joaquin County petition Chairman for the death penalty initiative, I'm acutely aware of the hard work thousands of Californians put into it. Should these four Assemblymen turn their backs on your over-whelming vote?

THEY SHOULD NOT!

Write and ask your own Assemblyman to fully support SB 450.

Mrs. Bob Young
Stockton, Cal.

Bob Wood Reports

A week ago Sunday, I had the pleasant and interesting experience of speaking before fifty high school students. Ten students had been hand-picked by the faculty from each of the three public schools and the two parochial high schools in the Salinas District to attend the Junior Chamber of Commerce Leadership Conference, which was held at Salinas High School. They represented a good cross section of today's high schools. I think I gained more from their views and opinions than they possibly gained from my views as a Legislator.

One of the questions I asked was their feelings of whether or not 18-year-olds, not that they can vote, should also be allowed to drink alcoholic beverages. They were unanimous in saying "yes." I think asked them if when they returned home if they would ask their mothers and dads how they felt on the same question. I have heard from a few who were considerate enough to write, and as I thought might happen, the parents were mixed in their feelings but the majority did not favor the allowing of alcoholic beverages for 18-year-olds.

To be realistic, I think most of us parents know that there are bound to be times when our children no doubt do partake of some form of alcoholic beverage before they are 21 years of age, whether they are in their own homes or elsewhere. I think it is this drinking "elsewhere" that worries most of us parents.

It is interesting to note that a constitutional amendment which offered to give those in the youth age bracket the right to drink was voted down last week by a five-man Assembly Committee. I am not a member of that particular committee, but understand from my colleagues that witness after witness appeared in opposition to the measure, which if adopted would have gone to you people for a vote because it would change the present constitutional provision prohibiting those under 21 from consuming alcohol. Although there were many witnesses in opposition, I think the one that would concern most of us was the witness who pointed out that the automobile accident rate among young people has doubled since one state enacted an 18-year-old drinking law.

As of this writing, the author is undecided whether he will ask for reconsideration of the measure. The same issue has been before the Legislature several times with the same results.

As I See It

BY MEL VERCOE

The decision of the House of Representatives to shut off the bombing funds after ten years of faithful unquestioning servitude to several Presidents is heartening in a way. My favorite description of Congress, comparing it with a man sitting in a bathroom unable to decide on a course of action, will now have to be revised. It finally made a decision for itself, and I think the underlying reason is very interesting. It has to do with the Watergate stink.

First of all, the Watergate wrongdoing can not really be compared with former cases of corruption in high places because the motives were different. The standard type of corruption usually takes place in an attempt by somebody to rake some cream off the top, either by direct stealing or indirectly by gaining political power in order to throw some lucrative contracts in the right directions. Money had nothing to do with the Watergate stink except that a lot of it had been contributed to carry it on and cover it up and it had not been duly reported.

Watergate had two motives. The minor motive had to do with Mr. Nixon's desire to enhance his personal image, which is only human, and the hope was to even further discredit the thoroughly confused Democrats. The major motive was to satisfy on the home front the same kind of paranoia that keeps our bombers dropping 1,000 tons of bombs daily on Cambodia, even with the full knowledge that the bombing effort has absolutely nothing to do with American security. There is probably no way that anyone could ever convince Mr. Nixon or the men he selected to man his central power center (Ehrlichman, Haldeman, etc.) that communists in Cambodia are not a threat to America. There are communists there somewhere and they must be destroyed.

This will someday be recognized as trickery on a scale that will make Watergate pale by comparison, and when the chips start to fly our Congress will find itself mentioned as a conspirator with the Administration in this senseless continuation of a war that is destroying our own country. This is why Congress is dropping its support for the bombing. Not because it is illegal and immoral and senseless and expensive, but because these sad excuses for representatives of the people don't want to be remembered for their part in it.

Talent Show Winners Named

The 2nd Annual City-Wide Elementary School Talent Show, sponsored by the Seaside PARKS & Recreation Department, was held on Friday, May 4, at King Junior High School.

Included in the show were 14 finalists who had been selected from each of the elementary schools in Seaside in auditions held the previous week. Master of Ceremonies was Cleve Williams, Director of Parks and Recreation, and the judges included Joseph Cota, Billie Barton, Steve Ross, and Glen Olea of the City Council and the Mayor of Seaside, B.J. Dolan.

First place went to a Band/Dance group from Ord Terrace School, the Superstars. Included in this act were: Raymond Alexander, Mark Blackwell, Ezra & John Burdix, Ernie Caperida, Chris del Rosario, Greg Hickson, Lon Hoover, James Hunter, Carlos Johnson, Jamie Martinez, Raymond McClellan, Sydney Olden, Willie Robinson, and Derrick Tooley.

Second place went to a dance group, The Goodfoots, which included Vincent Brown, David Choates, and Phil Jones, from Manzanita School. Coming in third was another dance group from Ord Terrace, The Black Arts. Jenny Connor, Sharon Connor, Melodie Cooper, Sandra Jacob, and Melanie

Officer Marshall Allen Rauhala

Marshall Allen Rauhala was born and raised in Columbus, Ohio, where he attended elementary schools and graduated from Central High School. After graduation Marshall enlisted his services with the U.S. Army and received basic training at Fort Knox, Kentucky. Upon completing basic training, he was assigned to Fort Hood, Texas, where he underwent Advanced Infantry Training and was shipped out to Europe. Marshall was assigned to the G3 Operations Sections of the Armored Division which was operating somewhere in Germany. Later he was assigned to G3 Air Section, and was responsible for the coordination of all Air flights over training areas between the Army and the Air Force.

Even though Marshall was never stationed in California, after he received his discharge from the Army, he, like any other young man, came west. His first employment was with McMahan's. Later he transferred to their Pacific Grove store.

In mid-1968, Marshall decided to finish his education and enrolled at Monterey Peninsula College, majoring in Police Science. Marshall continued with his education and in 1971 joined the ranks of the Seaside Police Department. While in the employ of the City of Seaside, he has received his Basic Certificate from the State of California Department of Justice, the Commission on Peace Officers Standards and Training after he graduated from the Central Coast Counties Police Academy located in Gavilan College at Gilroy.

Marshall states the reason he chose a career in law enforcement was because he was tired of hearing police officers referred to as pigs and without brains. Marshall further states that since being on the force he has found that the caliber of officers that are hired by the City of Seaside is far better than with any other city, and that the hiring process for policemen is getting so good that only those people who are really qualified are being hired.

'Save Harambe Trade Your Clinic' Rally Books For Is Sunday Scholarships

"SAVE HARAMBE CLINIC" RALLY will be presented at the Del Rey Cultural Center, Fremont and Broadway, next Sunday at 3 p.m. The rally is to be held to raise money to pay current expenses due by Harambe Medical Clinic. There will be speakers, light music and rap sessions to keep the people entertained. Everyone is invited to attend and participate in this most worthwhile event.

Sigler composed this group. Rosalyn and the 4 Stylistics captured fourth place with a dance number. Included in this group were Veronica Carol, Mary Lou Cooper, Cerita Hunter, Cecilia Lewis, and Rosalyn Williams. Finishing out the top five, in fifth place was Cameron Brown doing a Bongo Solo. Cameron is from Del Rey Woods School.

The remaining contestants were given Award Ribbons from the City of Seaside. Refreshments were served while the Judges deliberated. The Awards were passed out by each of the Council members. There was an approximate crowd of 250 people.

Monterey Peninsula College Bookstore is sponsoring a Scholarship Book Buy Day, Monday, May 21. All instructors, students and the community who wish to donate textbooks may do so on or before May 21, when a representative from College Book Company will purchase them.

The proceeds from the sale of these books will go into a student scholarship fund at MPC for 1973-74.

Books may be turned into the MPC Bookstore in the College Center. For further information, call 375-9821, ext. 326 or 276.

MPC Calendar Of Events

Two performances of "Julius Caesar" and scenes of Ulysses' return from his travels will be staged in the Monterey Peninsula College Amphitheatre by a Walter Colton Jr. High School humanities class.

The students will perform on Saturday and Sunday, May 19 and 20, at 1 p.m. and 2:30 p.m., respectively. They will use a different cast on each of the days to permit participation by all of the students.

The ninth grade students are requesting a 75 cent donation on the days of the performance, or tickets can be picked up at the school's administration office. For further information, call Walter Colton Jr. High at 649-7125.

The discussion session is the last of a series. Admission is $1. For tickets or additional information, contact Community Services, 375-9821, ext. 335.

The surging computer culture and the future of our society is the subject of the second seminar in the series "Towards the Year 2000." Dr. Michael Scriven, professor of philosophy at the University of California, Berkeley, will speak Friday, May 18, in the Monterey Peninsula College Armory at 8 p.m. on the topic: "The Computer Culture—Beyond 2001."

"Psycho" and "The 39 Steps" will be screened together in the final program in a series of Alfred Hitchcock classics this Friday, May 18, at Monterey Peninsula College.

The program is being presented by the MPC Film Appreciation Club and will be screened at 8 p.m. in Lecture Forum 103.

A $1.25 admission for Friday's program will be asked at the door. Coffee on the house will be served during intermission.

A jazz concert, with guest soloists Ralph Humphrey and Dale Ramey, will be presented in Monterey Peninsula College's Music Hall at 8 p.m. Wednesday, May 23.

Humphrey is presently the drummer for "Frank Zappa and The Mothers of Invention." He has been the featured drummer with Don Ellis for the past five years and played on campus at last year's sell-out concert. Ramey, an MPC guitar instructor, has played professionally around northern California. He and Humphrey will also play in a quartet with Don Schamber, MPC instructor, on the piano and Bud Jones, local all-star musician, playing bass.

Also on the program is the MPC Jazz Ensemble and Biff Smith's group.

General admission is $1.50; students and military, $1. Tickets will be available only through Jazz Ensemble members or at the door.

One of man's natural resources will be "tapped" in the Monterey Peninsula College Center when the Red Cross conducts a blood drive Thursday, May 17, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The Student Activities office has coordinated with the Red Cross to hold a collection drive three times during each school year. A blood donation covers the donor for three months if he should need blood. A total of eight donations grants coverage for life.

The College Bookstore has offered a 15 per cent discount to all student donors; the discount does not include textbooks. For further information, call Student Activities at 375-9821, ext. 326 or 333.

Three topics, all inter-related, will be discussed at the Thursday, May 17, meeting of "What Every Woman Needs to Know" at Monterey Peninsula College in LF-103 from 8-10 p.m.

Ms. Louise Hale, a lecturer in sociology at the University of California, Santa Cruz, will talk about feminine roles in today's society. Also to be considered are the needs of the Peninsula's women and how MPC can meet their needs.

IN PRO PER for Petitioner

SUPERIOR COURT OF CALIFORNIA, COUNTY OF MONTEREY

In re SHANE LAMOUNT THOMAS JR., a Minor, by AMANDA LOUISE WALDRUP Parent, for Change of Name.

No. M5980

ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE

WHEREAS AMANDA LOUISE WALDRUP, Petitioner, as a parent of applicant SHANE LAMOUNT THOMAS JR., a minor under 18 years of age, has filed a petition with the clerk of this Court for an order changing applicant's name from SHANE LAMOUNT THOMAS JR. to NATHANIEL LAMOUNT WALDRUP;

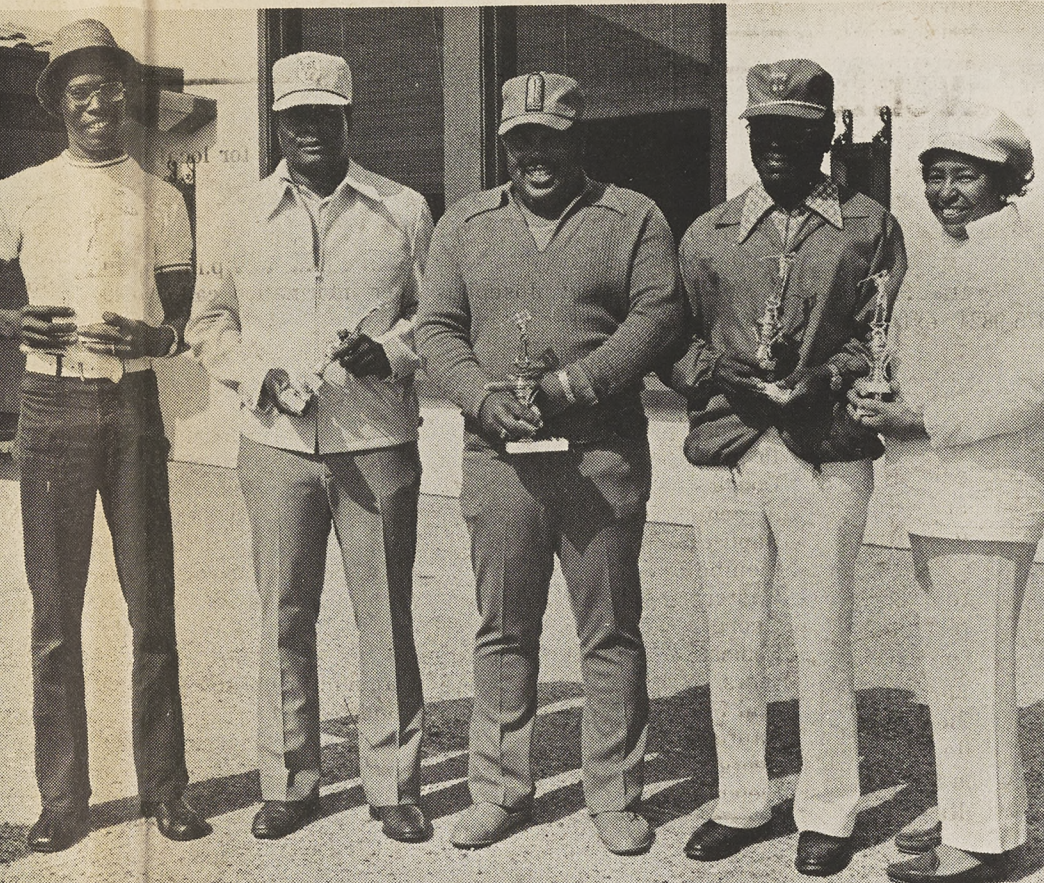

IT IS ORDERED that all persons interested in the above-entitled matter appear before this court at 9:30 A.M., on June 11, 1973, in the courtroom of Superior Court, 1200 Aguirre Road, City and County of Monterey, California, and show cause, if any, why the petition for change of name should not be granted.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that a copy of this order to show cause be published in the Seaside POST News-Sentinel, a newspaper of general circulation printed in Monterey County, California, once a week for four successive weeks prior to the date set for hearing on the petition.

DATED: May 7, 1973.

Students Return From Model U.N.

Seven Monterey Peninsula College students and their advisor have returned from the far west meeting the Model United Nations where they represented the Central American country of Honduras and wrestled with some of the problems facing countries in the world today.

Attending from MPC were Christine Iverson, Barbara Horton, Frank Chapman, Maria Guerra, Flavia Miranda, Raoul Espinosa and Rebecca Brier, according to Carl Pohlhammer, the group's advisor.

Pohlhammer explained that MPC's participation in the Model UN is the first in several years. He explained that each participating college or university is given a country to represent and each member of the delegation is assigned to a different committee and is required to become thoroughly familiar with the positions taken by his or her country.

The advisor said that his students attended committee meetings on nuclear testing, peaceful uses of the sea bed and national jurisdiction over the sea; the special political committee on peacekeeping and apartheid; trade and development; human rights in armed conflict; the problem of the environment and a committee on Namibia and the Portuguese territories.

Pohlhammer said "the students came away from the meetings with a good knowledge of parliamentary procedure, an extensive knowledge of the issues before their particular committees and the experience of meeting and interacting with students from other colleges."

Student Art Is Exhibited

The confidence of Seaside residents in the ability of their young people has proved to be justified as evidenced by the exhibit of art of the students of Seaside High School no on display at Seaside City Hall. The show encompasses such a variety of arts and crafts, all beautifully executed, that to describe each in detail would be too lengthy, and to pinpoint a few items would be grossly unfair. The exhibit includes photography, graphics, batik, weaving, tie and dye, quilt making, stitchery, rug hooking, and many other crafts.

The show is an indication of the possibilities when latent talent is given time, incentive, and an opportunity for expression. By a cooperative arrangement between the staff of the Seaside High School and members of the Seaside Art Commission early last fall, it was agreed that students of the Art and Crafts Departments would exhibit their works in the Seaside City Hall during the month of May, the responsibility of selection of exhibits resting with the head of the Art Department. Thus students knew far in advance that there was a special goal to be attained. Mr. Peter Persson, presently in charge of the Art Department, and Mr. John Nightingale of the Craft Department are to be complimented on the results of their work. It is obvious that the students received inspirational guidance in their fields of interest but were given a wide latitude of choice.

Suffice to say that the parents, teachers and friends of these young people can be justly proud of their accomplishments. It is a show that should not be missed. The exhibit will remain through May 31 and the public is invited to view it between the hours of 8 to 5 Monday through Friday.

Antique Show This Weekend

"The Show of a Thousand Treasures," aptly describes the Monterey Antique and Collectors' Show and Sale, coming to the Exhibition Halls of the Monterey Fairgrounds, May 19th and 20th.

Featured are a "Hall of Antiques," a "Hall of Coins and Stamps," a "Gem and Mineral Patio," and an outdoor "Garden Court of Arts and Crafts and Collectibles."

Knowing what to look for, and getting there first, are the two secret ingredients to success in this modern day game of treasure hunting. Show hours are 10-6 Saturday and Sunday.

BEEF PLUS... BRAND

NEW AT SAFEWAY!

BEEF PATTY MIX...A BLEND OF BEEF AND TEXTURED VEGETABLE PROTEIN...

BEEF PLUS is a wonderful new Patty Mix now being offered in Safeway Meat Departments. It's a blend of about 75% Safeway ground beef and about 25% hydrated textured vegetable protein which is delicious, nutritious and lower in cost than ground beef. It is high in protein, closely matching ground beef in this important characteristic. Many people who have tried BEEF PLUS say that it tastes better than ground beef. The vegetable protein in BEEF PLUS absorbs and holds much of the meat flavor and many of the juices which are usually cooked out of ground beef.

BEEF PLUS can be used just like ground beef... In 'burgers, meat loaf, spaghetti sauce... in every ground beef dish, plain or fancy. We invite you to try BEEF PLUS with our money-back guarantee of satisfaction.

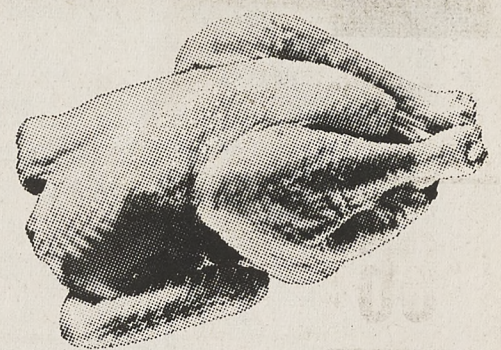

BEEF PLUS can save you money in two ways... It costs less per pound than ground beef. It holds meat juices better in cooking and so makes plumper patties, hamburgers, and Salisbury steaks.
